

we love to listen to K-Love as a family and we don't have to monitor every song for bad language. It not only brings our family together, but as a community and it serves as an alternative to families that don't want their children listening to songs that just on sex, drugs, and bad behaviors.